TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Mr. Milton P. Kroll, of the Securities and Exchange Commission, has been of inestimable aid to this office in obtaining information for the planning of bombing missions. His contribution on this score has involved an extensive and intensive search among files, publications, and people in a position to provide data of this kind.

The qualities of intelligence, analytical reasoning, industry, and tact, which are essential in this work, make him "good officer material." I trust that Mr. Kroll's training and qualifications can be put to appropriate use.
